Company continues strategic growth, enhances its leadership position in healthcare computing technology with the acquisition of point-of-care market leader

Portland, OR (August 10, 2015) – Capsa Solutions (“Capsa”), a leading provider of mobile computing carts, medical carts, and medication management systems to the healthcare industry, today announced the acquisition of Rubbermaid Healthcare (“RHC”). RHC, formerly part of Newell Rubbermaid Inc., provides technology-enabled products including mobile computing carts, medication carts, and wall-mounted IT workstations to healthcare facilities.

The acquisition of RHC is the company’s fourth acquisition in the last eight years, and brings together two leaders in the healthcare IT and computing industry. RHC’s position has been built on their suite of premium healthcare computing products and reputation for unmatched customer service, which is highly complementary to Capsa’s existing product portfolio and equally outstanding customer service.

Combined, Capsa now offers the broadest product suite in the industry, and the addition builds on Capsa’s unique ability to provide tailored computing technology solutions to acute care and long-term care partners worldwide.

“We are thrilled to welcome Rubbermaid Healthcare’s exceptional people and products to Capsa Solutions,” said Capsa Solutions CEO Andrew Sherrill. “Our recent growth has been focused on adding line and brand extensions thoughtfully, and always with the ever-evolving needs of our acute care and long-term care partners at the forefront of the process. We’ve done that here, and are very pleased with the outcome.”

Through the acquisition, Capsa adds an outstanding group of channel partners empowered to market the entire product line, which combined with the extensive knowledge and solution-based consultation provided by a national sales team, offers valued options to all customers.

“The quality and sophistication of Rubbermaid Healthcare’s product lines and service model is impressive,” said John Gutzwiller, Capsa Global Vice President of Acute Care. “Rubbermaid Healthcare is the premier provider of point-of-care IT solutions to healthcare facilities. Combined with our existing strength in the category, our lineup presents our valued customers with a wide array of solutions and options.”
